Interior

With an architecturally pleasing exterior, internally the house delights with its unique and characterful rooms. The house is able to accommodate 22 guests comfortably, making it an ideal venue for those special family birthdays, anniversaries or celebrations. With ten bedrooms split over two floors, The house can cater for various groups, be it three or four families using the rooms as family suites, or individuals and couples.

The house has been sensitively restored and has a wealth of original features; including beautiful exposed beams, an original bread oven, Victorian two-seater lavatory, Cheese room and a secret passageway.

Exterior

The house and its immediate surroundings are steeped in history. Once inhabited by the local Abbot. The house is adjacent to one of the oldest and largest Tithe Barns in England, which is a National Trust site and the adjoining parish church dates from the 12th century.
