Interior

The chalet has a open plan living and kitchen space with wooden floors and large windows on both sides letting in lots of light.

There are bedrooms on the ground floor and in the roof space of the building offering different styles of rooms for shoots.

Exterior

American-style chalet bungalow set within ancient woodland, offering a distinctive and highly versatile filming and photography location within easy reach of London.

The property has a charming green weatherboarded exterior, complemented by white decking and decorative features.

It is surrounded by private, secluded gardens that are not overlooked, and is situated within a very private neighbourhood, providing productions with an exceptional degree of privacy and discretion.

The property benefits from a 40ft private drive with ample parking, making access straightforward for film crews, production vehicles and equipment. The generous access and parking are particularly useful for larger shoots where multiple vehicles and crew members need to be accommodated on site.
