Interior

This inspirational London filming location is decorated with unique style and offers one-of-a-kind rooms. The Art Deco hotel boasts a pool, fitness centre, two restaurants and a bar. Event spaces are available to cater and suit all your requirements. Inside, the Hall was sumptuously decorated: leaded windows featured stained-glass panels with references to famous legends in the area, while green and white marble panels lined the grand entrance-hall and staircase, and fine decorative plasterwork, oak wainscoting and polished teak flooring could be found throughout.

Exterior

The completed building was opened in 1910. As well as featuring a tower, a cupola, and a beautiful facade in fine stone, the structure was adorned with several sculptures commissioned by Henry Poole, whose work can also be seen in Westminster Central Hall and St Paul's Cathedral.
