Interior

The space consists of three rooms - two large, connected ones at the front of the shop, and a smaller one at the back. The main space is beautifully lit from a huge glass shop window from the street, and a sash window at the back. The back room has two windows to the side return. The rooms are minimally decorated to a high standard, with crisp white walls and restored pale Victorian floorboards. The space is used as a gallery, so the two front rooms have discreet white gallery lighting on ceiling tracks. The back room is lit with flush-mounted spotlights. The location is flexible - it can easily be dressed as a shop or living space, or used as is, as a studio. There is a small, stylish kitchenette and bathroom at the back of the shop, as well as a small courtyard garden.
