Interior

This Victorian detached town house has been sympathetically restyled with a metropolitan twist. Colours range from muted almonds to a cruel and unusual pink. The stone spiral staircase leading to the basement is a special feature. A beautiful garden with an old brick wall and a view of the hills.

Exterior

A large detached Victorian house on a leafy suburban road. The area is well kept and quiet, with residential traffic and the odd dust cart breaking a serene atmosphere in the wide side streets. The area in general is dominated by large sycamore, lime and plane trees overlooking residential gardens.
