The estate comprises the principal farmhouse together with a separate self-contained two-bedroom lodge situated within the grounds.

The property combines historic character with comfortable modern accommodation and includes eleven bedrooms, a traditional farmhouse kitchen, library, multiple reception rooms, open fireplaces, exposed beams, mature gardens, orchard, woodland and countryside views.

The presence of the separate lodge provides additional flexibility for production companies, offering potential space for production offices, hair and make-up, wardrobe, green rooms, talent accommodation or crew facilities.

Its secluded rural setting, period features and extensive internal accommodation make it suitable for film, television, advertising, editorial photography, lifestyle shoots and corporate productions.
