Interior

This property has a very large flat roof, with protective railings, which is perfect for filming music videos, photo shoots as it has excellent views of the Gherkin and other London landmarks.

With this roof there is the option of using the associated apartment which is 24' x 24' in an open-plan L-shaped design. Film makers should note the proximity to the railway lines coming into central London, and be looking to film here if ambient noise is not a problem. (The apartment is very well insulated but there is still a small amount of noise from the railway)
