Features:

Interior

An entrance hall leads to three principal reception rooms, a drawing room with a beautiful stone fireplace, a sitting room and an atmospheric dining room with its recently reclaimed inglenook fireplace, exposed oak timbers and quarry tiled floor. The hall also leads to the study and cloakroom with large patio doors leading to the garden and terraces. Beyond the dining room is the kitchen, a generous room with ample space for a large table. Very much the focal point of any family home, the bright kitchen has been refurbished to a high standard and includes a 4 oven Redfyre cooking range and has three large windows overlooking the grounds. Adjacent is the large boot/utility room providing extensive space and storage. On the first floor there is a spacious master bedroom with a period fireplace and exposed beams, double aspect to the gardens and an en-suite shower room—the dressing room is opposite and fitted with an extensive range of wardrobes, drawers and cupboards.

The east wing provides two further double bedrooms and a luxurious bathroom with under floor heating and separate shower. The west wing provides two bedrooms and bathroom and a door on the landing would allow this section to be closed off should a suite of rooms be required, making the home suitable for multi generational families. A further set of stairs rises to an attic which extends to almost the full floor area of the house.

Exterior

The property is approached by a five bar electric gate, which leads to parking for up to six vehicles in addition to the DOUBLE GARAGE, which benefits from a mezzanine floor for extra storage. There is also a large brick and tile OUTBUILDING. Well maintained gardens which include extensive level lawned areas, large terraces on the south and western elevations, an ornamental pond, a paddock area with garden equipment garage and log store.
