Interior

This sailing boat film location was built in 1926 as a cargo vessel, working the shores of east coast of Britain for 51 years - initially under sail alone, and later, from 1958 as a motor barge. She came out of trade service in 1977 and was re rigged, again becoming an active sailing vessel.

The vessel is a wonderful and fully working piece of UK maritime history, she has been lovingly restored by her current owner and is now available for a variety of charters including eight annual races, sailing trips, static events, and as a London based shoot location.

The length on deck is 86' with an 18.5' beam. She is fully and traditionally rigged with 30' bowsprit and can carry over 5000 square feet of sail. She is certificated and equipped to current MCA/government regulations and set up as full seagoing vessel. When under way she is licensed to carry up to twelve passengers, and for static events she can accommodate 60+ guests.
