Interior

The property is an elegant Edwardian-Baroque style mansion, nestled in a secluded wooded haven. Built by one of Bradford's most successful mill owning families, it hosted grand family celebrations & entertained numerous business associates; a tradition which continues today.

Originally the home of the family, and is part of the textiles heritage of our region. The impressive house features a large south facing patio, private gardens and flexible rooms.

The elegant entrance includes a grand staircase, numerous fire places and original windows. The lounge is a long room with views out onto the private south facing terrace and garden. Connecting to the bar via sliding doors an elegant fire place is situated next to the compact bar. Down steps into the main dining room. A blank canvas. This can be set for events with furniture available. Featuring French doors onto the gardens, original windows and wooden dance floor. Rear views onto ancient orchard.

All available for filming and still shoots.

Exterior

Through a tree lined avenue the property opens out to a spacious car park. The Mansion has impressive architecture on both the front and back of the building. Steps and a grand entrance door lead from the car park. The front door leads directly through to doors out onto the garden. The garden is walled with doors and a raised terrace area. Manicured lawns with evergreen back ground
